FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials from the Office of State Courts Administrator assume the proposed legislation would have no fiscal impact on their agency.

Officials from the Office of the State Public Defender assume existing staff could provide representation for those cases arising where indigent persons were charged with the crime of invasion of privacy, which would now be a class C felony. However, passage of more than one similar bills would require the State Public Defender System to request increased appropriations to cover the cumulative cost of representing the indigent accused in the additional cases.

Officials from the Office of Prosecution Services assume the cost of the proposed legislation can be absorbed with existing resources.

Officials from the Department of Corrections (DOC) assume the proposal enhances the crime of Invasion of Privacy by adding the levels of first and second degrees and adding to the criteria that constitutes a crime. The newly created penalty provision is for a class C felony in the first degree, while the existing language constitutes the second degree level.

Currently, the DOC cannot predict the number of new commitments which may result from the creation of the offense(s) outlined in this proposal. An increase in commitments depends on the utilization by prosecutors and the actual sentences imposed by the court.

If additional persons are sentenced to the custody of the DOC due to the provisions of this legislation, the DOC will incur a corresponding increase in operational cost either through incarceration (FY99 average of $35.61 per inmate, per day) or through supervision provided by the Board of Probation and Parole (FY 99 average of $2.47 per offender, per day).

The need for additional capital improvements is not anticipated at this time. It must be noted that the cumulative effect of various new legislation, if passed into law, could result in the need for additional capital improvements funding if the total number of new offenders exceeds current planned capacity.

In summary, supervision by the DOC through probation or incarceration would result in some additional costs, but due to the narrow scope of the crime, the unknown impact is not estimated to exceed $100,000 annually.

FISCAL IMPACT - Small Business

No direct fiscal impact to small businesses would be expected as a result of this proposal.

DESCRIPTION

This proposed legislation creates the new crime of invasion of privacy in the first degree by adding the element of distribution or transmission of photographs or film to the existing crime of invasion of privacy. The existing crime of invasion of privacy, a class A misdemeanor, becomes a second degree offense. Invasion of privacy in the first degree is a class C felony. The proposal also creates a civil action for invasion of privacy, which is equivalent to the criminal action for invasion of privacy in the second degree.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
